

Radio 2 listeners urged ‘not to visit’ Lyme Regis

We’ve won the cup!

IN a blast of negative publicity, radio listeners were urged not to visit Lyme Regis over the Bank Holiday because “there’s no where to park and you can’t get any money”.

An angry listener made the comment on Radio 2’s Jeremy Vine show, which has just posted record figures for his weekday morning programme.

With no park and ride, no ATM machine operating at Tesco and the ladies’ toilets closed on the seafront, Lyme’s late Bank Holiday turned into a nightmare for the town council.

This newspaper received dozens of complaints from locals and visitors. Traders were angry about the lack of parking with drivers circling the town several times to find a parking space.

Francesca Evans
Editor | francesca@viewnews.co.uk

Roadside verges were crowded with unauthorised parking and there were reports of residents’ drive-ways being blocked.

Among those to vent their frustration was Cobb boatman Harry May.

He wrote to the View from Lyme Regis stating: “Well now its official, on Radio 2’s Jeremy Vine show millions of listeners were told not to visit Lyme Regis as there was no parking and no cash. Luckily the person who rang up the radio station did not need the loo while she was here because that would have made another headline we don’t need.

“And yet, despite having Lyme Regis Town Council in charge, we have had a very good Spring Bank Holiday although of course we are hundreds and hundreds of visitors down because the town council have not sorted out the park and ride and don’t actually appear to be doing anything about it.

“If I had a business in the main street with their high rents I would be seething as I would know I had lost at least 25 per cent of my potential customers due to parking.

“I read with great interest in last week’s View from Lyme that local councillors have expressed their disappointment over the time WDDC are taking to hand over more of their assets (ie car parking, public toilets and the Information Centre) to Lyme Regis Town Council. After the havoc that has descended on our town this week I would suggest that until this council get our present problems sorted it might appear to be complete madness to the ordinary man in the street to hand them more powers. Better to restrict their powers to organising events like the over 70s Christmas party, on second thoughts no.....the parking could become an issue.”

Hundreds of visitors found themselves unable to draw out cash with the town’s three banks now closed and the only ATM machine

Dorset residents alerted to fraud trends

DORSET Police is alerting residents to new and emerging fraud trends affecting the county.

Every month, Dorset Police will be updating the new Fraud Alert page on the Force website, with emerging fraud trends that are affecting the residents of Dorset.

Fraud often affects the most vulnerable in the community, but anyone can become a target. Fraudsters do not just target individuals, they target businesses too.

Detective Sergeant Andrew Kennard from the Economic Crime Unit, said: "People often feel embarrassed about being a victim of fraud, but there is no reason to be. It can happen to anyone and it is important you tell us."

"Reporting fraud helps us to understand the new trends and techniques being used by criminals and gives us the opportunity to warn others before they become victims."

The UK has a centralised fraud reporting centre called Action Fraud. They record all incidents, refer cases to the police for investigation and provide specialist support and advice.

The Fraud Profile for Dorset shows that 2,406 crimes were reported between April and September 2016. The total victim loss was £4.6 million pounds and the most commonly targeted victims were aged between 60 – 79yrs.

Detective Sergeant Andrew Kennard continued: "It's easy to be caught out. Fraudsters are clever and know how to gain your trust. Make sure you don't give out any personal information to anyone unless you have confirmed who it is you are speaking to. "Remember: You will never be asked for your personal banking details, such as passwords and PIN numbers. If you are, hang up and contact the organisation/company back by using a number you know, such as one from your latest bill, in the telephone book or from their official website."

"If you receive a suspicious phone call, hang up immediately, dial 1471 and note the number that called you, then contact Action Fraud on 0300 123 2040, or online at actionfraud.police.uk. Action Fraud will alert Dorset Police."

For up to date fraud and cyber crime alerts, please visit the Fraud Alerts page of the Dorset Police website at dorset.police.uk/fraud

Summer drink-drivers to be named and shamed

DORSET Police has launched its summer drink and drug driving campaign.

Drivers are being reminded that the consequences of driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs can be devastating and those caught will be publicly named by the force.

Throughout the month-long operation, officers will be requesting breath tests from all drivers involved in road traffic collisions, irrespective of whether or not they suspect an offence.

Drivers can expect to be tested during routine stop checks and if they are stopped for an offence. Field Impairment Tests (FIT) will be conducted on drivers suspected of being unfit to drive through drugs.

During 2016, 880 people were arrested for testing positive for alcohol, refusing to provide a breath test or failing their test by blowing over the legal limit. A further 128 people were arrested for drug driving.

Police Constable Heidi Moxam, Dorset Police's Casualty Reduction Officer, said: "With the weather continuing to get better, we're at a time when drivers are more likely to risk drink or drug driving after socialising. I would ask those planning to go out for a few drinks to consider how you're going to get home beforehand."

"Nationally, on average 3,000 people are killed or seriously injured each year in drink drive collisions."

"Too many people, fail to consider the untold devastation that drink and drug driving can cause. Alcohol impairs many of the functions necessary for safe driving – reaction times go up and spatial awareness is significantly reduced. You don't have to be drunk to be a drink driver."

Chief Inspector Adrian Leisk, Head of the Alliance Roads Policing team across Devon & Cornwall Police and Dorset Police, said: "People convicted of drink or drug driving can expect to be banned from driving for at least 12 months, receive a fine of up to £5,000 and/or six months in prison."

"When someone dies as a result of a collision involving a drink or drug driver, sentences can carry a penalty of up to 10 years in prison."

Don't risk it, it's never worth it."

As in previous campaigns, anyone charged with a drink driving related offence during the campaign will have their name and court appearance details released to the media. Custody images of those convicted could also be issued.

During the 2016 Summer drink and drug driving campaign, 45,267 motorists were breathalysed across the country, with 4,539 (10.0 per cent) testing positive or failing to provide a sample.

OA total of 2,588 drug tests were administered, resulting in 1,028 drivers testing positive (39.7 per cent).

Follow the campaign progress on Twitter using hashtag #DontRiskIt.

For non-urgent matters, or to pass information about someone who regularly drives under the influence of drugs or alcohol, please go to www.dorset.police.uk and follow the 'Do it online' function. Here you can pass all the details to Dorset Police via the online enquiry form. Members of the public can also email 101@dorset.pnn.police.uk or call 101.

Don't forget to vote tomorrow

DORSET residents will be heading to the polls tomorrow (Thursday) – along with the rest of the country – to cast their votes in the general election.

In the West Dorset constituency, which covers Bridport, Beaminster, Lyme Regis and Dorchester, Sir Oliver Letwin (Conservative) will be challenged by Lee Rhodes (Labour), Kelvin Clayton (Green) and Andy Canning (Liberal Democrat) for the area's seat.

Sir Oliver has a majority of more than 50 per cent and polled 16,000 votes more than his nearest rival – Liberal Democrat Ros Kayes – in 2015.

In the South Dorset constituency, which includes Weymouth and Portland, incumbent Richard Drax will face Tashi Warr (Labour), Howard Legg (Liberal Democrat) and Jon Orrell (Green) in a bid to secure his role.

Conservative Mr Drax took the South Dorset seat from Labour in 2010, only to increase his share of the vote two years ago.

Flying the flag for civil engineering

THE project to repair the harbour walls at West Bay has joined a campaign to promote civil engineering in Dorset.

The campaign, called 'This is Civil Engineering' and developed by the Institution of Civil Engineers (ICE), was launched in association with Raymond Brown Construction Ltd at West Bay Harbour last month.

The campaign's primary aim is to raise the profile of civil engineering through increased awareness and understanding of the contribution that it makes to our quality of life.

ICE has developed banners and signage to be displayed at project sites, helping members of the public to make the link between the infrastructure on site and its positive impact within the community.

Miranda Housden, regional director for ICE South West, said: "The 'This is Civil Engineering' campaign promotes the contribution of civil engineering to society and we are proud to be displaying the banner at prominent sites within our region."

"The campaign helps us to highlight the variety and importance of civil engineering to the general public."

The inner harbour was first constructed following the 1722 Bridport Harbour Act and the harbour is Grade II listed.

The wall has significant cracking and was seen to be in poor condition with a section of the wall known to have a large void beneath it.

The Design and Build contract was let to Raymond Brown Construction in February 2017 and will be completed over a six month period.

They are using innovative solutions to stabilise the harbour wall, fill the void and repair all damage to the harbour wall.

A spokesman said: "Raymond Brown Construction is pleased to support the ICE's 'This is Civil Engineering' campaign."

"We hope our support on this project helps raise public awareness of civil engineering and goes some way to attract new people into a rewarding career within the industry."

Council to hear formal complaints over hike in chalet site license fees

THREE Lyme Regis councillors have put themselves forward to hear formal complaints from Monmouth Beach chalet owners, after their site license fees were raised by 25 per cent.

The council selected members to sit on a complaints panel, after four chalet owners decided to formally invoke the council's complaints procedure.

The council agreed in December 2015 to increase the site license fees for chalet, caravan and day hut owners at Monmouth Beach by 25 per cent, resulting in a significant number of owners refusing to pay the full amount.

Speaking at a recent full council meeting, town clerk John Wright reported that this problem had largely been resolved, but four owners wanted to invoke the formal complaints procedure.

He said: "I think everybody is aware we had a lot of people not paying all of their charges to us this financial year. At one point it was 84 people; that's all been whittled down to what we consider a manageable number. People have paid but there's still four people saying that they want to formally invoke the complaints procedure.

Francesca Evans

Editor | francesca@viewnews.co.uk

"What we've not done is treated complaints historically because there's been so many people aggrieved with the council's decision that it wouldn't be possible to feasibly do it, so we agreed with the residents association that we would work through it, get to an absolute number of people who wanted to complain and it's four."

Mr Wright said it would be "very difficult" for officers to deal with the complaints because they could be accused of not being independent, as he and the deputy town clerk had been heavily involved in the matter from the start.

"We have agreed with the people concerned that we take it straight to a member panel and they're happy that it goes straight to members and misses the officer stage of the process," he commented.

Councillor Owen Lovell put himself forward to sit on the panel, as he said he felt it was "unfinished business" from his recent term as Mayor of Lyme Regis and he would "like to see it through".

Councillor Brian Larcombe also put himself forward, although he expressed concerns that all councillors had been party to the decision to increase site license fees, so could be accused of not being independent.

The town clerk replied: "Everybody is party but there needs to be a panel of fair-minded members to review this because there's nowhere else for it to go."

It was agreed that Councillors Lovell, Larcombe and Derek Hallett would sit on the complaints panel with the hearings expected to be held this month.

No cash, no parking, no toilets - Bank Holiday meltdown

at Tesco out of action for ten days.

Councillor Cheryl Reynolds chairman of the town council's Tourism, Community and Publicity Committee, has been trying to find a solution.

She has written a strongly worded letters to HSBC, NatWest and Lloyds castigating them for leaving the town without any cash withdrawal facilities and she has approached Fat Face, which occupies the former HSBC bank, asking if they will install an ATM machine.

Councillor Reynolds said: "As Chairman of Tourism, Community and Publicity it pleases me that so many of the community are getting together to help with the ATM problem."

"Whilst I feel that the we are the banks customers and it should have been them that thought about how Lyme Regis might manage without them, regarding ATMs and not the council, I am happy to try and help resolve this problem. We are progressing well and with everyone's help I am sure we can find a solution."

Lyme's lack of parking over the holiday weekend was exacerbated by the fact that both park and ride sites were not operational.

The operator running the Charmouth Road service went out of business earlier in the year, with no replacement having been found, and the council is waiting for planning permission for the Sidmouth Road site.

The council was forced to close the ladies toilet on the seafront on the Thursday before bank holiday and have been investigating the possibility of possibility of providing good quality mobile toilets on a short term basis.

After hearing that the ladies' toilets on the seafront, owned by the town council, were closed to the public the toilets at the Woodmead Halls were opened throughout the Bank Holiday and half term week for users of the Woodmead car park to help alleviate the issue.

Philip Evans, chairman of the halls management committee, said: "We were inundated with requests to use the toilets by car park users. Negotiations are still proceeding with the council to re-open the toilets for the summer and we hope to have a conclusion to this in the near future."

Lyme to receive estimated £100k in funding from developments

A WORKING party has been set up to consider how best to spend funding totalling an estimated £100,000 available for capital projects in Lyme Regis.

Town councillors were recently informed that West Dorset District Council is currently holding Section 106 funding likely to be about £100,000 specifically for Lyme Regis, and is asking for proposals on how it could be spent on capital projects that cover public open spaces; recreation, parks, gardens and outdoor sports; play areas; allotments; amenity space; natural green space; community venues; museums; waste collection; waste disposal; and coastal protection.

Section 106 agreements, also known as planning obligations, are private agreements made between local authorities and developers, and can be attached to a planning permission to make acceptable development which would otherwise be unacceptable in planning terms.

Councillor Derek Hallett said the funding provided the council an opportunity to develop Strawberry Field, land off Charmouth Road which has been set aside for sporting and recreational use.

He commented: "We have done absolutely nothing with it and here's our chance to get it off the ground and get things going."

However, Councillor Owen Lovell warned Councillor Hallett not to "get his hopes up too much" as he said the funding would probably be ring-fenced for just one of the above categories.

Councillors Lovell, Brian Larcombe, Stephen Miller and Cheryl Reynolds will sit on a working party to discuss ideas. These meetings will be held in private and any proposals will then be brought back to council.

Former Lyme man dies in Germany

A FORMER Lyme Regis resident . Rodney Jones, has died in Germany after a long illness fighting cancer, aged 76.

Mr Jones was born in Lyme and educated at Lyme Regis Grammar School where he excelled as an all-round sportsman.

He went on to play football for Lyme Regis and cricket for Uplyme before moving to Germany.

Lifelong friend Derek Hallett said: "Rodney was one of the best sportsmen for miles around when he was younger. Although he lived in Germany for a long time, he loved his home town and visited frequently."

Mr Jones is survived by his wife, a son and daughter and a sister.

A memorial service for Mr Jones will be held in Lyme Regis Parish Church on June 17th.

WHERE CAN I GET CASH?

COMPLAINTS flooded in over half term as frustrated residents and holidaymakers struggled to find anywhere to take out cash from their bank accounts in Lyme Regis.

Following last month's closure of the town's last bank, Lloyds, Lyme has been left with just one free cash point outside Tesco. However, this has been out of order for ten days leaving many questioning where they could take out cash.

Lyme Regis Post Office offers free cash withdrawals and there is an ATM in the Amusement Arcade on Marine Parade, although this charges £1.85 per transaction. The Co-operative and some other town centre businesses also regularly offer cash back.

New operations manager for council?

TOWN councillors will consider whether to employ a new operations manager at a Human Resources Committee meeting tonight (Wednesday), following a staff resignation.

Elliott Herbert, who was the council's first operations manager, leading the authority's team of outside staff, has stepped down from the role.

Councillors will tonight consider the future of the role, whether a new operations manager is needed and whether the functions of the job should be changed.

Mayor opens annual exhibition

■ THE Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Michaela Ellis, with husband Alan and Sue Wells of Lyme Regis Art Society at the exhibition opening

LYME Regis Art Society's annual exhibition got off to a flying start as members congregated at the Town Mill's Malthouse gallery to enjoy the opening night.

The recently-appointed Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Michaela Ellis, opened the exhibition by praising the art society for its active role in the local community.

Earlier in the day, local marine, portrait and landscape artist, David Beckers, judged the paintings and ceramics. David congratulated the art society for an exceptionally high standard, "created with such passion and enthusiasm".

His first choice was 'Morning Chill', a pastel pencil animal drawing by Janet Clayton. David praised the composition, back lighting and use of colour.

Peter Hodges

Reporter | peter@viewnews.co.uk

'Low Tide at Charmouth', a textured oil composition by Val Ravenhill came second, and a vibrant impasto 'Dorset Landscape with Geraniums' by Gillian Jones took third prize. David commented on the way Town Mill curator Phil Clayton had displayed the exhibits, making sure every work was shown to best advantage.

Lyme Regis Art Society meets for demonstrations in Woodmeads Hall on first and third Tuesday afternoons of the month at 2pm. The next demonstration will be held on Tuesday, September 19th and visitors are always welcome.

Mungo Jerry star to lead Guitars On The Beach

RECORD-breaking event Guitars On The Beach will return to rock Lyme Regis this month with a guest appearance from Ray Dorset, frontman of the 1970s band Mungo Jerry.

The event is now in its fifth year and has been moved to the earlier date of Saturday, June 17th this year, when as many guitarists of all ages and abilities will be encouraged to strum along to form the world's biggest band.

Guitars on the Beach broke the record for Britain's biggest band back in 2014 when Deep Purple bassist Ian Gillan led a mass play-along of 'Smoke On The Water' but this year it is hoped the world record, currently held by Poland, will be smashed with Mungo Jerry's 1970 number one 'In The Summer Time', led by Ray Dorset.

The event will kick off at 10.45am with Bittersweet Harmony from Poole and performances will continue throughout the day as the crowd builds up, with the line-up including Hot Java, The Blue Deal, The G-Men, Slinky Machine, 1830, Boson Theory, Delta Tango 7, Jed Robertson, Marshall Stapleton, Grace Gillan and Jake Miller, Adam Sweet and more.

The Guitars On The Beach Sand Band will take to the stage at 4pm to lead a set of 15 songs which the crowd will be encouraged to join in with - 'Viva La Vida', 'Sweet Child of Mine', 'Let It Be', 'My Sweet Lord', 'Hey Jude', 'Rockin All Over the World', 'Every Rose Has its Thorn', 'I Love to Boogie', 'Get It On', 'Blockbuster', '2468 Motorway', 'Wish You Were Here', 'Johnny B. Goode', and the original Guitars On The Beach soundtrack, 'Rave On'.

The record attempt number 'In The Summer Time' will be held at about 5pm and Ray will also be playing 'Lady Rose', 'I'll Be a Hippy till I Die' and 'Touch The Sky' in a bid to boost the event's fundraising effort for Music For All, which helps young people get started in music.

A prize draw will be held to raise funds for the charity on the day, with prizes including guitars and ukuleles and the star prize of a Fender Strat, signed by Albert Lee.

Musical entertainment will then continue into the evening, finishing with headline act Shoot The Moon, a seven-piece band from Bristol that has previously played at Glastonbury and Isle of Wight festivals, and has supported Madness, The Specials and The Skints.

Guitars On The Beach is being sponsored by Absolute Music from Bournemouth, one of the biggest music super-stores on the south coast, which will be supplying the PA system and sound engineers. Blackstar Amplification will also be supplying the amps for the event.

Organisers would also like to thank the following sponsors - Lyme Bay Holidays, The Snack Shack from West Bay, C.G Fry and Son, Axminster Garden Machinery, Musicians Insurance Services, Lyme Regis Sea Glass Jewellery, Axe Music and Sounds Live.

So get your guitars or ukulele dusted off and visit the website www.guitaronthebeach.com to learn how to join in with the giant Sand Band and download the song sheets.

Seasiders celebrate 37 years of friendship

■ VISITORS from US Creully Commes sing the French national anthem after arriving and, below, members of Lyme Regis Football Club sing the British national anthem

MEMBERS of Lyme Regis Football Club were in high spirits as they welcomed friends from their French twin club over the weekend.

The Seasiders celebrated 37 years of friendship with twin club US Creully, from Normandy, which has recently joined forces with nearby club Commes to form US Creully Commes.

This was the first time a contingent from Commes had joined those from Creully in the twinning celebrations, resulting in a large party of more than 35 guests visiting the town over the weekend.

The French party arrived at Lyme Regis Football Club on Friday afternoon, where the Union Jack and French flags were raised and national anthems of both countries were sung.

Guests then enjoyed an evening with their host families and drinks at the Ship Inn before the annual match for the Nicolas Marie Memorial Trophy was held at the Davey Fort on Saturday afternoon, with Lyme winning 6-5.

A three course dinner for more than 90 people was held at the Pilot Boat Inn on Saturday evening, where the visitors presented Lyme Regis club chairman Howard Larcombe with a framed shirt, and a painting of Broad Street by local artist David Manners was offered to the French guests.

The national anthems were sung again on Sunday morning and the flags lowered at the football club before the guests departed.

Official opening for Charmouth Coastwatch Institution station

SIR Oliver Letwin will officially open the Lyme Bay National Coastwatch Institution (NCI) satellite station at Charmouth on Saturday, June 10th.

The Charmouth station, which has been providing a weekend and bank holiday service since May 2016, is based in a Napoleonic lookout just above the Charmouth Heritage Coast Centre.

The station provides complementary support to the main Lyme Bay NCI station at Burton Bradstock, covering the inshore sea area between West Bay and Lyme Regis.

Those scheduled to attend the official opening, to be held at 10.15am, include the Lord Lieutenant of Dorset, Angus Cmapbell; the High Sheriff of Dorset, John Young; Lyme Bay NCI chairman and former High Sheriff of Dorset, Jennifer Coombs; former High Sheriff of Dorset Sir Philip Williams; and senior members of NCI and the blue light services.

NCI provides eyes along the coast, monitoring maritime radio channels and maintaining listening watch. Visual surveillance monitors seaborne vessels and vulnerable activities such as wind surfing and kayaking.

Locally, volunteer watchkeepers also provide a valuable service to members of the public advising on walking routes, tides and general sea conditions.

The NCI maintains close contact with the coastguards, reporting any emergencies and, if required, co-ordinates with search and rescue services such as the RNLI at Lyme Regis.

The lookout was built in 1804 by the Customs and Excise Service against the backdrop of the Napoleonic threat and smuggling. The lookout was used throughout the 19th century by the Excise and Coastguard services which were taken over by the Admiralty in 1856.

It ceased being used as an observation post in 1909 and Charmouth Parish Council took over the lookout in 1945, and it has more recently been used as a beach hut.

The NCI is pleased to be using this historic building for activities closely related to its original purpose.

Lyme ladies complete Ride the Night cycle to fight female cancers

■ A GROUP of Lyme Regis women have raised more than £2,000 for cancer charities after taking part in the Ride the Night event in London. Ride the Night saw 3,000 women cycle 100k through the capital overnight, from Windsor to Buckingham Palace and back, to raise funds for Breast Cancer Care, Jo's Cervical Cancer Trust and Ovarian Cancer Action. The team from Lyme and Uplyme included Jo Fowler, Tracey West, Lynsey Dowell, Kayleigh Beddows, Laura Andrews, Amy Buller and Natalie Edmeades (all pictured above), completing the course in an average of 5.5 hours. The event raised a total of £1.25million to fight female cancers.

10 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK...

■ LYME Regis Town Council considered introducing an all-year dog ban to keep its new-look beach clean.

Following the opening of the new Cobb Gate beach, the town council asked the district authority to extend the summer ban to a 12 month exclusion zone.

The district council carried out a public consultation before making any decision, with 66 of the 90 responses received being against an all-year ban. However, as the district council were not been able to confirm that all those who opposed the ban were ratepayers, calls were made for a more comprehensive survey of the views of local people.

■ LYME Regis welcomed Martin Case to the town as its first Police Community Support Officer (PCSO). The town was expecting two PCSOs to start, but one decided not to take up the position at the end of her training.

■ TWENTY-seven years of friendship through sport was celebrated in Lyme Regis over the weekend when Lyme Regis Football Club played host to 25 guests from their twin club in Normandy. The twinning arrangement is still going strong 10 years later (see pages 6 & 7).

Young musicians entertain at B Sharp's Busking Festival

MUSIC filled the streets of Lyme Regis last weekend, as local youth charity B Sharp held its annual Busking Festival alongside the Jazz & Blues Festival.

More than 50 young musicians took part in the event, entertaining crowds of residents and visitors at various busking spots around the town.

B Sharp's new managing director, Marcus Dixon, commented: "The Busking Festival last Saturday was fantastic. A real testament to the power of B Sharp to showcase the incredible and diverse musical creativity of young people of all ages."

"I was spellbound on the seafront with my yellow bucket the whole day as tiny tots to young and older adults all performed, in bands, jamming, soloing as instrumentalists, pianists and singing and all holding the audience in palms of their hands."

"The Busking Festival is a fabulous showcase both for young musicians and B Sharp, and the Marine Parade shelters performance area a great venue. B Sharp would like to thank the team from Lyme Regis Jazz & Blues Weekend for all their help."

"The success of the B Sharp Busking Festival on Saturday was a confection of a lot of many excellent things. But mainly the talent, dedication and all the mentoring and support by the charity's music leaders and team given to the young musicians at out of school workshops, classes and performances throughout the year."

The event raised an estimated £800 for B Sharp, which provides music-making opportunities to young people from the local area. For further information or to get involved, contact Marcus Dixon on marcus-dixon@bsharp.org.uk

Celebrating the seaside at Town Mill

TWO new joint exhibitions at the Town Mill galleries in Lyme Regis will be exploring our visual and visceral responses to living near the British coast.

'Towards the Sea' will be held from June 9th to 21st in the Malthouse gallery, and 'Coast and Found' from June 9th to 14th in the Courtyard gallery.

In 'Towards the Sea', Dorset artist Michael Stride presents a collection of his latest paintings to convey the sense of anticipation you feel as you journey closer to the sea, evoking memories as far back as childhood.

His brushwork on large acrylics to small watercolours draws on light and movement; horses and even steam trains create more motion as they pound similar routes, all culminating in the drama of the water's edge.

Michael will be joined in this show by Jonathan Bingham whose flowing charcoal works, energized with vibrant colour, add still more variety to the collection.

'Coast and Found' brings together two self-taught Charmouth-based artists - painter Philip Winstone and sculptor Ernie Godden.

Having come to painting after an initial interest in photography, Philip's distinctive style is a mixture of semi-abstract and impressionism, inspired by the subtle colours and rocky shores of the Dorset coast.

Ernie settled here after having lived on Dartmoor for 17 years followed by a sojourn in southwest France. An art lecturer and teacher, he has moved from painting landscapes and seascapes in various media to specialising in sculpture, the latest examples of which will be on show in this exhibition.

These two exhibitions are open daily from 10.30am to 4.30pm, admission is free and the artists themselves will often be stewarding.

5 TIPS FOR LOFT CONVERSIONS

IF YOU need more space at home, converting the loft into an extra room, or rooms, can make a lot of sense, both now and when you come to sell

1. If your home's loft is more useful to you as living space than storage, converting it is the obvious thing to do. A loft conversion should make your home more valuable and sellable, and if you can fit a bathroom or shower room up there, as well as a bedroom and built-in storage, you have the perfect master or guest suite.

2. Loft conversions cost from around £20,000, but are often a lot more, depending on the size, spec and type of conversion. The cheapest and easiest loft conversions are ones with only skylights, as the line of the roof is unchanged. However, this isn't ideal if the loft has limited space and head height.

3. Building out the roof to create more useable space inside will give you a much more satisfactory conversion. As long as there are no planning restrictions, building a full-width dormer window across the roof at the back and changing the side of the roof so it's 'straight' (viewed from the front or back) instead of sloping (this isn't possible with mid-terraced houses) will maximise the space internally.

4. For a loft to be suitable for conversion, the main space should be at least 2.3m high generally, the steeper the pitch of the roof, the better it will be for conversion. Standing up in the loft and walking around (if safe to do so) will give you an idea of how much useable space there is. If there isn't enough head height, even by building out the roof, you may be able to lower the ceilings in the rooms below, but this will be expensive and disruptive and isn't practical if they're already quite low. Another option may be to rebuild the roof to make it higher, which is also a big, expensive job.

5. You'll need space for a staircase up to the loft on the floor below and if this means losing a bedroom, you may not be much better off by converting the loft. Spiral staircases can be a good space-saving solution, as can narrow (and straight) 'space-saver' staircases, although they aren't necessarily practical for everyday use and are unlikely to comply with building regulations.

Have you read any good bots lately?

ADVERTISING works. Why else would businesses pay for it? How else could advertising agencies make fortunes (from us) on the back of it? And what else explains the growth of 'microtargeting' – online advertising aimed at those with digital profiles suggesting the greatest receptiveness?

Microtargeting, dominated by the likes of Google and Facebook, who own the data it relies on, is the new (and expensive) advertising fashion.

But advertising isn't used just to sell goods: it also 'sells' political parties, social movements, even ideas. Successful advertising brings power in the marketplace, whether that marketplace is for products, or for ideas and beliefs. So microtargeting to sell politics (and buy power) may already have come to a computer or mobile device near you.

The news stories offered by a Google search or on a Facebook account, for example, are determined by algorithms that draw on each user's digital trail: we see only what we've led the machine to think we want to see. Perhaps that's not so different from one person choosing to read the Daily Mail, another the Guardian, and a third the Daily Mirror: "It's just responding to my own interests".

Perhaps. But social media already tend to substitute 'thinking for myself' with 'thinking (and feeling) what my friends think (and feel)'. The scale and immediacy of personally-aimed digital news can only accelerate that trend towards social conformity.

But what if we see only what the machine wants us to see? What if politicians, or less visible power-seekers, manipulate what comes to our screens? What if large amounts of internet traffic – news stories, Facebook

with monthly columnist
Chris Boothroyd

'likes', Google searches that affect page rankings – come not from humans but from invented user accounts programmed to behave as if human, but in one pre-determined direction? Then the internet becomes not just an advertising medium but a powerful engine of propaganda.

All those 'what ifs' are happening now.

Political organisations can buy (or be handed access to) vast databases of personal information collected from our lives on the web, on social media, and on phones... That enables them to flood digital networks with targeted messages, tailored stories, even false 'news'.

Buying digital profiles from data brokers for political purposes is questionable. The Electoral Commission controls campaign spending, but only within a short defined period; yet databases are built and acquired well before those limits apply. The Information Commissioner says that if political parties use 'precise digital trails' to target individuals "they are going to be outside the law" – for it's illegal to process our 'sensitive data', which includes political inclinations, without our permission. Microtargeting is OK for selling goods, but not for selling politics. Both the Electoral Commission and the Information Commissioner are looking at this in relation to the current election and last year's referendum.

It's illegal, too, for data-owners secretly to offer their databases to a political campaign. In a compelling piece of old-fashioned investigative journalism, The Observer's Carole Cadwalladr has dug deep into alleged links between the EU Leave campaigns and a network of data collection and analysis firms, all leading back to one small group of (extremely wealthy) American far-right activists – a group also instrumental in the Trump election campaign, now well-placed in the White House and, in some cases, with strong links to major internet companies.

It's all murky and secretive, but suggests that one or more American billionaires may have provided services and resources 'in kind' to influence a British political campaign – something that breaks not only the spending rules but also those that restrict foreign influence.

What if you don't have access to data? Try manipulating the internet with 'bots' – those automated pseudo-accounts programmed to do nothing but send out, and respond to, trigger messages.

Research suggests that around half of internet and social media traffic is of this type. In America, software called 'Persona Management' has been used as a climate-change-denier-bot: pretending to be hundreds of different people, it posted negative comments on any news story crediting human causes for climate change.

In the run-up to the French Presidential election, Facebook and Twitter were full of such automated messages skewed in favour of the Front National. Before the EU referendum, a third of all Twitter traffic was bot-created to trend pro-Leave topics. Arron Banks, big funder of Leave.EU, has said that "since we deployed this technology [Artificial Intelligence]... we got unprecedented levels of engagement. AI won it for leave." He's also said that "I don't give a monkey's what the Electoral Commission says... We were just cleverer than the regulators." Among much else, Banks owns data and insurance companies: "We know everything about everyone. We buy everything." Including political power over the rest of us?

Without data access or bots, 'cleverer' folk can also distort search results. How many of us go beyond the first few links on a search-results page, let alone to the second and further pages? Those top results carry power. How do they get there? Most website designers know the tricks that will push them up Google's page rankings. The more sites that link to each other, the greater their ability to rise in the rankings.

Jonathan Albright, a researcher in North Carolina, has produced an astounding visual analysis of how a vast network of far-right websites has established a grip on political search: his diagram looks like a manic virus running out of control and infecting other platforms such as Facebook. This organism – for that's what it is – promotes false news and hate stories, determines how auto-complete searches will behave, and fuels its own growth. Everyone who is trapped by clicking anywhere within it is then automatically tracked and pursued with political messages of the 'right' kind.

So here's a hope for Thursday's election: that everyone who votes does so because of what they know and think for themselves. And here's another: that nobody breaks the law in reaching the place where laws are made.

The weekend from hell for the council

THESE are uncomfortable days for Lyme Regis Town Council. Events conspired to make it a very fractious Bank Holiday for our elected members.

The lack of the park and ride facility at both ends of the town resulted in traffic mayhem, the lack of a cash point facility in the main street and the closure of the ladies toilet on the seafront prompted one reader to write to us saying Lyme was "in meltdown".

A slight exaggeration, perhaps, but in 12 years of running this newspaper I can't remember another time when we received so many complaints from residents and visitors.

Walking down Church Street on

Lyme Matters

by Philip Evans

Saturday one local wound down his car window and shouted: "Sort this bloody mess out" as if it was my fault!

There was also news that the council's much heralded beach showers had to be turned off and gossip about some staffing issues at the town council offices.

Not a good week, then, for LRTC.

We can't really blame the town council for the lack of cashpoint facilities in the main street. The ATM at Tesco has been out of order for ten days now but I am pleased to see that Councillor Cheryl Reynolds, as chairman of the Tourism, Publicity and Community Committee, has been trying to find a solution although it is not the council's responsibility.

The closure of our three banks in recent times has led to this situation but visitors aren't to know that and arriving in a town after the shops are shut, desperate for some cash after a long journey, is bound to cause frustration.

As we report on page one, one visitor was so annoyed about their experience that she rang the Jeremy Vine Show on Radio 2 to tell people not to bother to visit Lyme Regis. Not the kind of publicity Lyme expects.

The toilet situation is more worrying. In this day and age there is no excuse for stinking public loos. It was not so long ago that Lyme was labelled as having the worse public toilets in the country and great efforts were made by both town and district councils to up their game.

But the existing infrastructure is ancient and to upgrade them all is going to be a very expensive operation.

Boatman Harry May highlighted this in his letter to the View, drawing attention to the fact that there was talk of all the toilets being transferred to the town council when the new unitary authority comes into being. He questioned whether Lyme Regis Town Council would be up to it.

For some time I have been advocating in this column that Lyme, one of the most popular small resorts on the south coast, has to concentrate not on cramming more people in but to give those who come here a better experience. That has to start with decent, hygienic toilets.

FAKE NEWS? I see that Councillor Geoff Scowan had a little bit of fun on Facebook this week by suggesting I am planning to seek election to Lyme Regis Town Council.

It was my fault for making an off-the-cuff remark to Geoff about what I intended to do in retirement but it ain't going to happen.

The last thing Lyme Regis Town Council needs is another 70-year-old bloke as one of their number.

Hopefully, there will be some younger candidates for the by-election to replace Daryl Turner after his elevation to a cabinet position on Dorset County Council, making him one of the most influential councillors in Dorset.

My only intention in retirement, which is beckoning, is to spend more time with my grandchildren and continue working for those organisations who have honoured me by making me their president.

Behind the rowdiness the true spirit of football shines through

LYME Regis was invaded by 36 raucous French men over the weekend as Lyme Regis Football Club celebrated the 37th year of its twinning with their counterparts in the Normandy village of Creully.

The noise levels rise considerably in Lyme when the French are in town as they never miss a chance of singing and chanting their anthems like most European football fans.

But behind the rowdiness is a unique arrangement that has brought two small communities together, fostering friendships that will last a lifetime.

It all started with a group of 12 of us, led by the then manager David Cozens, crossing the channel for a game of football and a barbecue where the rarest steaks I have ever eaten were served.

We may be a bit greyer, a bit heavier and not able to down the Calvados in such quantities, but we are still footballers at heart. It's our international language.

Photography and science come together for U3A talk

JOHN Marriage, local expert on all things photographic and scientific, will combine his enthusiasms in an illustrated talk to the Lyme Regis-based Heritage Coast University of the Third Age (U3A) on Wednesday, June 14th.

John has researched the history of 'Lichtenberg figures' – the strange, beautiful, almost organic shapes formed when a pulse of high-voltage electricity passes over the surface of an insulator.

These were first described by Georg Christoph Lichtenberg in the 18th century, and first photographed in the 19th by Étienne Leopold Trouvelot. Their work produced little important scientific outcome, but the visual force of their images has continued to attract artists. John's talk is illustrated by examples of their work, and of Lichtenberg figures he has himself created.

The talk is at 11am on Wednesday, June 14th in Woodmead Halls, with coffee or tea available from 10am. Entrance is free to U3A members and £2 for non-members.

View from the churches

THE Archbishop of Canterbury invited Christians across the world to join together in saying the Lord's Prayer as a global act of prayer between Ascension and Pentecost.

It has been an opportunity to share familiar words with a sense of being united with people of different languages, yet all the same understanding.

The Bishop of Sherborne wrote: "The Lord's Prayer, said with a heart wanting to connect with a God who loves us and longs to listen, helps us verbalise thanksgiving, confession and supplication. It brings us in touch with God's priorities and challenges our own generosity and forgiveness. Said with meaning and sincerity, it connects us with God's ways and God's will, as we pray regularly, 'Thy kingdom come'."

Bishop Karen added: "We are like those early disciples gathered to pray following Jesus' ascension, for power from on high to become the people God wanted them to be. Christians are being invited as families and as individuals to pray 'Thy Kingdom Come'."

"In the Lord's Prayer, we have been given a rich resource not only to sustain us on our own journey but to pray for others on the Way, particularly those who do not know the love of Christ. At this important time in the life of our world – let us pray."

A decision we made at St Michael's is to retain the traditional words in church and school so that everyone knows the same version by heart.

You are welcome to join in prayer for a regular gathering between the churches of Lyme and Upplyme, hosted this time in St Michael's Parish Church. This starts at 7.30pm and we'll be praying for the nation as we come to vote and for the life of the local area and churches.

To sustain the body as well as the soul, cream teas are available on Sunday afternoons in St Michael's Church hall.

People are also invited to organise parties of their own. Fundraising packs including posters and invitations can be downloaded from the website. For more details about fundraising and events, visit juliashouse.org/timefortea.

Time for Tea runs until the end of August.

... and the charity thanks its volunteers

JULIA'S House is celebrating National Volunteers' Week (1-7 June) by paying tribute to its army of dedicated volunteers who give up their time to support life-limited children and their families.

The charity, which provides short breaks for parents across Dorset and Wiltshire who are caring round-the-clock care for a sick child, has 450 registered volunteers, who donate everything from a few hours to a more regular commitment, save Julia's House almost half a million pounds a year.

They help out with a number of tasks including fundraising, manning stalls at events, office admin, gardening, van driving, DIY, sibling support and serving customers in its shops.

Julia's House is currently looking for volunteer retail assistants, fundraisers and photographers. For more information visit juliashouse.org/get-involved/volunteering or call June Jones on 01202 644220.

Terror attacks: PCC statement

DORSET Police & Crime Commissioner, Martyn Underhill, has issued a statement in response to the London attacks on Saturday night.

The statement read: "Sadly, we have seen three terrorist attacks in quick succession in the UK. Our thoughts go out to the innocent victims and to the brave first responders who lost their lives or were injured.

"We need to try to better understand how we, as a society, can dilute the radical hate and come together as one.

"This is an important time, with the prize of any democracy, a general election, happening this week. Nothing or nobody must ever be allowed to deter, prevent or frustrate the inherent right of every UK citizen to vote in our free elections.

"This is a complicated landscape and once the election is complete, we must address the factors that are feeding recurring terrorist attacks.

"Firstly, we face greater online radicalisation, and I support the drive to hold social media companies to account for policing this.

"Secondly, there appears to be a clear increase in home grown radicalisation. Police and security services cannot be everywhere all the time. The more people that become radicalised, the increased likelihood that terrorist incidents will occur.

"The third challenge is that attackers can quickly change their modus operandi at will. Security services, policing and society must not only keep up but stay ahead of the curve. That is why the Chief Constable and I are examining the option and cost of offering Taser to every police officer who requests one and who successfully passes the training.

"Finally, a thorough review must be undertaken to establish whether the current counter-terrorism strategy is working."

If you have concerns about radicalisation, report this to the Anti-Terrorist Hotline on 0800 789 321 or 999 in an emergency.

Getting into character ahead of 'Monmouth'

If anyone was in the vicinity of the seafront last Thursday evening they may have seen a strange spectacle; a rebel army marching on Lyme. Well, granted it was a bunch of thespians who raided the communal dressing-up box, but they had rebellion on their minds and 17th century costumes on their bodies with the addition of artfully-concealed Velcro.

These exterior scenes were scheduled to be rehearsed earlier in the evening, but rain put paid to that and, unlike Monmouth's rebels, we were not too keen to get our nice costumes wet.

Looking out at the rain, Nick Ivins, who is playing the Duke of Monmouth, asked "is it an omen?" "No," we replied, "it's rain," being well-versed in meteorological phenomena.

While we waited for the rain to abate, we worked on the early scenes which take place on the seafront and in the George Inn, which stood in Coombe Street until it came off worst in the 1844 Great Fire of Lyme.

As soon as Sampson Larke (played by Brian Rattenbury) had sung his song three times over we left the theatre. No reflection on Brian's singing of course! And as we all know in local theatrical circles, Brian always sings!

So, there we were, the rabble army, err... I mean the rebel army, making our way to the Cobb through the hordes of holidaymakers.

As we climbed up on to the Cobb, the sky was brilliantly lit behind us.

There followed much shouting, chanting and singing (Brian once more, with a little help from his friends), which we believe was heard as far away as Chideock although we have no sound scientific basis for that belief.

The community play 'Monmouth', weather permitting, will commence at 6.45pm each evening from July 6th to 8th and 13th to 15th on the sandy beach, where you can experience for yourselves the arrival of Monmouth and his rebels, followed by a procession to the Marine Theatre for the play to start at 7.30pm.

A word about two of the rebels: Fletcher of Saltoun and Heywood Dare. Dare was a Taunton goldsmith and latterly a broker in Amsterdam. He had been appointed by Monmouth to be his secretary and paymaster.

Fletcher was a celebrated military officer who took exception to the fact that Dare rode in on a beautiful and spirited charger which he believed would be better used as his own steed.

Dare would not give up the animal and in the altercation which followed, Fletcher shot Dare dead. Dare's friends demanded vengeance and Monmouth, to screen him from reprisals, had him arrested and sent back to the ship from where he was exiled to Spain.

On that fateful first day, therefore, the Duke lost two of his most able men. The rebellion was already unravelling.

Dare and Fletcher are played respectively by John Simpson and John Murphy. Some of you will remember John Simpson's dramatic entrance on the balcony during the Tempest of Lyme; "A pox on your Palmers's ale".

Tickets for Monmouth are available from the Tourist Information Centre or via the Marine Theatre website.

A TASTE OF THE MONMOUTH REBELLION

In the run up to the Marine Theatre's community play 'Monmouth', based on the Monmouth Rebellion, we try out recipes from the period

"AND I dined well, and might merry, especially my Lady Slany and I about eating of creame and brown bread, which she loves as much as I" - Samuel Pepys, July 13th 1665

The dairy was seen as an acceptable place for the mistress of the house to be seen and to 'work', according to Henry Percy, 9th Earl of Northumberland, 1595: "A dary is tolerable, the kitching, buttery or pantry are not proper places".

And the tale of Little Miss Muffet provides clear proof of the variety of dairy produce made and consumed in 17th century England, from milk, cream, butter, buttermilk, to cheese, curds and whey.

Samuel Pepys was clearly smitten with creamy confections such as syllabubs and clotted cream was fast becoming a culinary obsession.

Sir Kenelm Digby's collection has various recipes for what has become a quintessentially English item but which may have originally been a middle eastern delicacy called Kaymark, which is still consumed today.

The following recipes are definitely for the cream lovers amongst us and those not on a diet no apologies!

Syllabub - a little goes a long way. Try serving with the cream toasts

1 kilo of a seasonal summer fruit stewed in 1 tblsp light brown sugar, more or less if you like Juice of 1 lemon
2 tblsp water
Measure off 10 fl oz of fruit syrup and let it go cold. Add to 10 fl oz of double cream, whisk with a balloon whisk till frothy and slightly thickened and then pour into long glasses and drink as Pepys would have done or serve with the following.

Cream toasts - a smart version on pain perdu or eggy bread

4 slices of good bread, not sourdough, but white or brown
150ml double cream
60 ml milk, not semi skimmed
25g sugar
Large pinch cinnamon
1 egg, beaten
15g butter, clarified if possible
Dark brown sugar
Mix together the cream, milk, sugar, cinnamon and eggs and leave the bread to soak in it for about 10 minutes. Fry the bread in the butter till gently browned and serve sprinkle with sugar. Would go well with a compote of summer fruits or apricots.

In September Working parents of three to four year olds across the country will be eligible for 30 hours of free childcare a week

PARENTS are currently eligible for 15 hours a week and the change in policy is only available from Ofsted registered nurseries, pre-schools and child-minders.

The new scheme will be introduced later this year and your child must have turned three before the start of the academic year.

The 30 hours of free childcare can be used in term times for 38 weeks or parents can spread the free childcare out over 51 weeks, but by doing so they would only be eligible for 21.5 hours per week.

Will I qualify for 30 hours of free childcare?

Parents of three and four year olds will need to meet the following criteria in order to be eligible for 30 hours of free childcare.

- They earn or expect to earn the equivalent to 16 hours at National Minimum or Living Wage over the coming three months.
- This equates to £120 a week (or c.£6,000 a year) for each parent over 25 years old or £112.80 a week (or c.£5,800 a year) for each parent between 21 and 24 years old and £56 a week for apprentices in their first year.
- This applies whether you are in paid employment, self-employed or on zero hours contract.
- The parent (and their partner where applicable) should be seeking the free childcare to enable them to work.

- Where one or both parents are on maternity, paternity, shared parental or adoption leave, or if they are on statutory sick leave.

- Where one parent meets the income criteria and the other is unable to work because they are disabled, have caring responsibilities or have been assessed as having limited capability to work.

- Where a parent is in a 'start-up period' (i.e. they are newly self-employed) they do not need to demonstrate that they meet the income criteria for 12 months.

- If one or both parents is a non-EEA national, the parent applying must have recourse to public funds.

A parent will not meet the criteria when:

- Either parent has an income of more than £100,000.

- If one or both parents is a non-EEA national and the parent applying does not have recourse to public funds.

What happens if a parent loses eligibility?

- They will receive a 'grace period' - this means they will be able to keep their childcare for a short period.

- Once the 'grace period' has lapsed, the parent should be entitled to the universal 15-hour entitlement.

Uplyme Pre-School

We have recently been inspected by Ofsted and gained a very pleasing report which is available at the pre-school or on the Ofsted web-site.

We are hoping to offer as many hours as we can when the 30 hour funding entitlement becomes available. Please visit the government website to find out if you may be able to claim these extra hours of funding.

Henry Paker to headline the Pilot Boat's next comedy night

ANOTHER top line up of comedy talent comes to the Pilot Boat in Lyme Regis this Saturday night headlined by another TV regular.

The star of this month's show, Henry Paker (pictured left), has appeared on Russell Howard's Good News, Seann Walsh's World and Edinburgh and Beyond as well as numerous Radio 4 shows. Henry is a real crowd pleaser with hugely relatable routines on everyday life peppered with punchlines from start to finish.

Having won the Leicester Mercury Comedian of the Year award in 2008 Henry has since gone on to have a run of critically acclaimed Edinburgh Fringe Festival shows and is now one of the most sought after headline acts on the comedy circuit.

Henry will be joined by twitter star (@littlelostlad) turned comedian Jake Lambert (pictured right). Having honed his writing skills on Twitter, Jake now has a live set to rival his online output with stories filled with clever one liners and snappy asides. Jake is quickly ascending the comedy ladder and recent tour support slots for both Seann Walsh and Rob Beckett have seen him gain a new legion of followers. A star in the making who will undoubtedly be a TV regular before too long.

Completing the line up will be two new comedy talents, Drew Taylor and Tom Taylor, hailing from Wales and Bristol respectively.

Dynasty meets Joan of Arc!

Viv channels some of the Great Joans

A HOPEFUL comedy about a woman in recovery from trauma finding empowerment by connecting with various inspiring Joans, such as Joan Collins, Joan Jett and Joan of Arc, all of whom embody elusive qualities of resilience and self-belief.

Think Dynasty meets Joan of Arc with lashings of cherry bakewells, a heavy dose of glam rock and tissues for all at the end. Irreverent, laugh out loud, hold your breath and weep silently; I Am Joan will stay with you long after you watch it.

Beautifully performed by Viv Gorden, a professional dance artist who has lifelong mental health issues. She is the founder and Artistic Director of Mean Feet Dance in Somerset specialising in dance for individual and collective wellbeing. Viv was winner of the Arts & Health South West Award 2015 Judges Individual Prize, in recognition of her outstanding contribution to arts, health and wellbeing in the South West region.

Viv said "I Am Joan is about recovery from childhood trauma – it's an autobiographical show and in that sense I haven't chosen to explore it – I didn't choose what happened to me but I have chosen to speak up about it. I have lived with mental health issues all my life and lots about my experience is very hard to articulate, there's still a lot of shame and stigma about mental ill health and dance gives me a way of being with myself where I have a voice and that is very empowering"

Derrick Newland of Pavilion Dance south west said "This piece is a call to arms".

Viv Gorden brings I Am Joan to Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, June 16th at 8pm. Tickets are £12 and £10, available by calling 01308 424204 or online at the Bridport Arts website www.bridport-arts.com

Dorset-based flamenco performer Salud announces June tour of intimate venues

FOLLOWING her sell-out success last November at the Lyric Theatre, Bridport, Dorset-based Flamenco dancer Salud is taking her thrilling one-woman show on tour around the county in June and July.

'I'm delighted to have this chance to perform to a wider audience,' Salud says. 'People here respond so well to the passion and drama of Flamenco.'

In a spectacle combining poetry, humour, and even rap with modern Flamenco music, Salud embarks a passionate and moving journey through her own life in dance, exploring the highs and lows, and casting a light on duende, the mysterious and indescribable power at the heart of Flamenco.

'Duende is something you feel but cannot explain,' says Salud. 'It is an energy that is essential to Flamenco, a sense of connecting to something greater - something outside ordinary existence - which makes you feel acutely alive.'

Her tour, stretching over June and into July, includes appearances at village halls in Langton Matravers, Briantspuddle, Cerne Abbas, and Wootton Fitzpaine.

The show involves a combination of Flamenco styles - from face-paced rhythms to slower, more dramatic dances, and Sevillana-style castanets - and includes a homage to the great singer Lola Flores, accompanied by Flamenco cajón drumming.

'I trained as both a dancer and an actress,'

Salud explains, 'and combine the two disciplines. It allows me to bring people closer to the art form.'

Salud has been dancing Flamenco since she was a teenager, inspired by the evocative street-dance of her native land. Now, having performed all over Spain, as well as in France, Turkey and the UK, she has settled in Dorset with her family.

Tour dates are as follows: Briantspuddle Village Hall on June 10th; Cerne Abbas Village Hall on June 24th; and Wootton Fitzpaine Village Hall on July 1st. Doors open at each venue at 7.30pm for an 8pm start. Reservations can be made by calling 01308 485772. Audiences are invited to pay what they like at the end of the show.

Time to Rise and Jit Jive

■ Rise Kagona

THE BBC'S Andy Kershaw cites him as having changed his life, and John Peel famously broke down in tears the first time he saw The Bhundu Boys perform live. And now Rise Kagona, founder and lead guitarist of The Bhundu Boys teams up with Scottish musicians to bring Jit Jive music alive to Evershot and Dorset audiences.

Rise quickly came to fame after travelling to the UK with his Bhundu Boys when he was in his early 20s. The Bhundu Boys went on to tour the world - one of the first African bands to achieve worldwide success.

Rise, though being the youngest in the band, was a wise band leader, creating a unit where all members could contribute creatively, and this, along with their huge talent contributed to the world-wide success of the band. After the band lost most of the members tragically in the late 90s, Rise has always looked forward, composing, arranging and practising, while always looking out for talented musicians he can collaborate with to perform his music.

Rise Kagona with the Jit Jive Band play at Evershot Village Hall on Friday, June 16th. Doors open 8pm, and tickets are £10 on the door, or £8 in advance, available by calling 01935 83580 or online at www.bhunduboy.co.uk

■ Shonaleigh Cumbers

Shonaleigh to tell tales of Emerald Sea

SHONALEIGH Cumbers returns to Bridport with 'The Emerald Sea', the fourth tale in the Gem Cycle of the Drut'syla tradition. It will be one of the first times this tale has been told in English.

Described as 'a modern day Shaharazad', Shonaleigh is an oral storyteller with an extraordinary cache of hundreds of tales learned as a child from her grandmother. She is one of the foremost storytellers on the British scene, appearing at venues around the country as well as travelling globally. As all those who have heard her before know, this is an unmissable opportunity to hear a spell-binding teller of ancient tales, which are just as relevant in this age as they were when first told.

Please note that for this particular evening the Story Café moves from its usual venue at the Arts Centre to the Bridport Unitarian Chapel-in-the-Garden. The storytelling starts at 7.30pm and doors will open at 7pm. Tickets are £8 and booking in advance is advisable. For any further information and to buy tickets please contact Christine Bell at christine41bell@gmail.com

Ballet Central pirouettes into Bridport

Nationwide tour comes to the Arts Centre

CENTRAL SCHOOL of Ballet's renowned graduate performing company Ballet Central's annual nationwide tour is underway and comes to The Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, June 23rd June at 7.30 pm and Saturday, June 24th at 2.00pm. Under the guidance of its new artistic director Christopher Marney, Ballet Central's diverse range of dance and theatre appears in 21 towns and cities across a five month period.

Ballet Central gives audiences across the country the chance to see the company's young and dynamic dancers who are on the cusp of their professional careers, showcasing newly-commissioned works and celebrated masterpieces by the dance industry's top choreographers.

The repertoire for this year's tour features Act 2 of Highland Fling by Matthew Bourne, Indigo Children by Royal Ballet artist-in-residence Liam Scarlett, and a new version of the ballroom scene from Romeo & Juliet by former English National Ballet's Jenna Lee. It also includes specially created works by Christopher Bruce and Malgorzata Dzierzon, as well as excerpts from Petipa's La Bayadere. The tour will also feature a scene from Dracula, choreographed by Michael Pink from the original production directed by Christopher Gable in 1996.

Christopher Marney, Artistic Director of Ballet Central comments "The Ballet Central 2017 tour will this year visit nine new venues reaching from Penzance in Cornwall to Dumfries in Scotland and bringing the next generation of talented dancers to your hometown. This year's performance showcases the best dance theatre from current industry professionals and gives you the chance to see newly-commissioned work and refreshed classics from the world's top choreographers. With renewed artistic vision, this is an opportunity to see the future stars of dance as they launch their professional careers".

Ballet Central is the touring company of the leading centre for professional dance training and education, Central School of Ballet which is based in London. Students on the final year of their three-year BA (Hons) degree course join Ballet Central to gain invaluable touring experience before graduation. Ballet Central's dancers not only perform but also help with technical aspects including lighting, sound, staging and wardrobe. Another highlight of Ballet Central is the music, much of which has been created by Central's Composer-in-Residence Philip Feeney, who also performs live on the tour.

Graduates from Central go on to join the world's premier dance companies. Recent Central students are currently employed with Birmingham Royal Ballet, Matthew Bourne's New Adventures Company, English National Ballet, Scottish Ballet, Ballet Ireland, National Ballet of Estonia, Ballet Black, Northern Ballet, K Ballet, Rambert Dance Company, Phoenix Dance Theatre, Slovakia Ballet, Singapore Dance Theatre, Billy Elliott and many more.

"A graduate from Central School of Ballet is a valuable asset in any company for they have already experienced life as a professional dancer by touring with Ballet Central. I have had the pleasure of working with many highly talented graduates of Central School of Ballet, indeed, several have played demanding leading roles in my productions with great success," says Sir Matthew Bourne OBE, renowned Artistic Director and founder of Matthew Bourne's New Adventures company.

Marvellous melodrama Gaslight set to take the stage

BELLA MANNINGHAM is losing her mind: ordinary, familiar objects disappear as if by magic. What demons haunt her when she is home alone? Whose are the footsteps she hears above, why do the gaslights dim and who is the mysterious stranger who appears out of the foggy night?

Patrick Hamilton's Gaslight is "A marvellous melodrama" (Quentin Letts, "Daily Mail") that has enjoyed continuous success since its first productions in the West End, on Broadway and in the cinema.

This production is directed by Imogen Vance. Having begun to establish herself as an actress (she appeared with the much loved Gordon Jackson in the 1953 film "Death Goes To School") she was advised by Ivor Novello to "spend two years in rep" to hone her craft. This led to a sixty year involvement in the genre: with her husband Charles. Imogen ran repertory seasons in such diverse places as Weston-Super-Mare, Chelmsford, Wolverhampton, Folkestone, Eastbourne and twenty-five years at the Manor Pavilion, Sidmouth. The Vance Organisation gave work to many including newcomers like John Inman as well as established stars like Jessie Matthews.

The dastardly Jack Manningham is played by John Elnaugh, a regular at the Manor Pavilion, Sidmouth for many years. John's West End appearances include the first revival of Noel Coward's "Easy Virtue" at the Garrick and "The Mousetrap" at the St. Martin's. A veteran of many pantomimes, tours and repertory appearances all over the country including nearly sixty leading roles at Sidmouth, he was a featured player in the hit TV series, "Genie In The House". A co-founder of Red Shift that recently celebrated twenty-five years of acclaimed production, John appeared in original productions by iconic horror writer

Clive Barker, but declined the opportunity to appear in a new project "Hell-raiser" as a well paid theatre job seemed a better bet!

The cast is rounded out by Janet Farrow, who spent many seasons at the Manor Pavilion, Sidmouth, Anna Swan, who has recently completed filming on the new series of "Victoria" for ITV, Teddy Corbett, nephew of Charles and Imogen Vance and an experienced and talented actor in his own right as well as a guest appearance by Bridport actor, Derek Rigby.

Gaslight will be performed at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis on Tuesday, June 13th, Wednesday 14th and Thursday June 15th, at 8pm nightly.

Bringing the best to Beaminster!

Beaminster Festival of music, theatre, art and literature

THIS YEAR'S Festival kicks off with the fabulous FREE Street Party in the Square on Saturday, June 24th. The road will be closed making way for tables and chairs, a wonderful selection of food stalls and great music – the Visual Arts Exhibition also opens that day for the week.

The broad programme of events includes performances by the Brodsky String Quartet, Wells Virtuosi (Beethoven's 7th), Tom Poster with a piano recital and Morgan Szymanski 'an Homage to Segovia'. Red Priest will give their imitable treatment to many familiar works and Nicholas McCarthy, whose teachers scoffed at the idea of a one handed boy becoming a concert pianist, shows just how wrong they were.

Bright young stars with the Young Musician of the Year 2016, Sheku Kanneh-Mason, cello, and Jess Gillam, saxophone, will provide a most exciting and contrasting evening as will Emily Sun, violin, the 2016 ROSL Gold Medal winner.

Some 300 children will also discover the thrill of giving a performance as Wells Cathedral School perform a Symphony Concert, Perrott Hill School the Neville Marriner Memorial Concert and our local Beaminster Schools join together in a Choral concert; the Mountjoy Handbell Ringers are proud to be included and from Cambridge Uni., the Footlights are bringing their 2017 Revue.

This diverse programme includes David Starkey and Joanna Trollope in the Literary Events with the Bash Street Theatre and Pop-Up Opera companies providing theatricals and the Pasadena Roof Orchestra the big band sound.

With Gershwin popping up in at least four programmes - 'Who could ask for anything more?'

Shine a light on your event.

TOWN & COUNTRY

AGENTS HOST AFTERNOON TEA IN AID OF THE DORSET HOSPITAL CANCER APPEAL

MAYFAIR Town & Country raised £149 for the Dorset Hospital Cancer Appeal after holding an afternoon tea recently. Staff at the Poundbury-based estate agents served an array of tasty homemade cakes and invited friends, family and local residents to attend and raise money for the charity. The cakes were supplied by Café Octagon, who are located on Pummery Square. Laura Bredenkamp, Branch Manager at Mayfair Town & Country, said: "We're delighted to have raised a good chunk of money for such a worthy charity. It was great to see so many people come and show their support and I'd like to thank Tracey at Café Octagon for supplying some exceptionally delicious cakes, which everyone thoroughly enjoyed.

"Unfortunately, most people now know someone who has been affected by cancer. But it's great to be able to help charities like the Cancer Appeal whose project will make a difference to so many sufferers and their families."

All money raised will be used to contribute to the availability of cancer treatment facilities for patients in North, South and West Dorset.

Mayfair Town & Country have two branches in Dorset – Dorchester (Poundbury) and Beaminster – as well as seven more branches from Crewkerne to Bristol.

Symonds & Sampson
ESTABLISHED 1944

KATE WISCOMBE is seen here collecting the keys from a delighted vendor Mr. Neills Wikstrom who recently sold his property through the award winning office of Symonds & Sampson in Beaminster. Mr. Wikstrom commented 'I had a number of valuations on my property as it was a big move for us relocating back to Sweden and I must say the service offered by Jeremy and his team in Beaminster was on a different level than anything else which was offered to me. We felt completely confident in not only the marketing campaign, but also the determination to sell my property for the best possible price in the shortest possible time. We set a guide price of £525,000 for the freehold and achieved significantly in excess of this guide'.

Kate commented 'Mr. and Mrs. Wikstrom had a lovely property which they bought through us and we are sorry to see them leave the town. They were lovely clients to work alongside'. Jeremy Smith, Residential Partner of the office concluded 'I am delighted that Mr. and Mrs. Wikstrom were thrilled with the service they received, they were selling one of Beaminster's most attractive properties which received excellent levels of interest. There are numerous reasons why Symonds & Sampson sell three times as many properties in Beaminster and the surrounding area, including high quality laminate sale details, professional photographs, extensive advertising and unlike most of our competitors we appear on all the major property portals including Zoopla where most of our London buyers come from'.

If you are considering selling or are indeed on the market without success, please call us for your free valuation on 01308 863100.

Ford GT and Mustang GT4 make UK dynamic debut at Goodwood Festival of Speed

THE ROAD-GOING version of the Ford GT will make its first dynamic appearance in the UK later this month, in the hands of Ford Chip Ganassi Racing drivers Andy Priaulx and Harry Tincknell, at the 2017 Goodwood Festival of Speed.

Priaulx and Tincknell will be joined on the Hill by their team mate, Billy Johnson, swapping his usual seat in the Ford GT race car for the fearsome Ford Mustang GT4, a track-ready race car unveiled at the 2016 SEMA Show in Las Vegas, to tackle the challenging 1.16-mile Hillclimb course.

Drift star Vaughn Gittin Jr also returns to Goodwood this year in his Mustang RTR to compete in the Festival's first-ever Hillclimb Drift Championship.

In addition to the track action, visitors to the Ford stand at Goodwood will discover models including the all-new Ford Fiesta making its UK debut. Also on show will be the Ford ST-Line range of Ford Performance-inspired models, including the Fiesta ST-Line.

Activities at Goodwood House, West

Sussex, begin on Thursday, June 29 with the Moving Motor Show, followed by the Festival of Speed from Friday, June 30, to Sunday, July 2nd.

Ford media releases and further assets will be available at www.goodwood2017.fordpresskits.com from 08:00am, Wednesday, June 28th.

New Tech Edition model joins updated Mazda2 range

THE RECENTLY updated Mazda2 range has been enhanced with the new Mazda2 Tech Edition. On sale from the 1st July, the Tech Edition is limited to just 750 cars, and as the name suggests, it focuses on delivering extra technology.

Based on the £14,695 1.5 90ps SE-L Nav, the Tech Edition benefits from the addition of 16-inch alloy wheels, Rear parking sensors, Privacy glass, Climate control, Auto lights and rain-sensing wipers – all for a price premium of just £300 over the SE-L Nav. Further enhancing the value proposition is the free-of-charge choice of Dynamic Blue Mica, Snowflake White Pearllescent or Jet Black Mica paint.

Highlights across all models in the updated Mazda2 range include the introduction of Mazda's G-Vectoring Control technology and detailed improvements to the suspension and steering to deliver improved ride comfort and steering response. In addition, interior upgrades include new seat fabrics, a new steering wheel and enhanced sound insulation.

Now exclusively offered with Mazda's 1.5-litre SKYACTIV-G petrol engine, the simplified nine-model Mazda2 range starts at just £12,695 for the 75ps SE, while the 75ps engine is also offered in SE-L trim. Making up the bulk of the range the 90ps version of the 1.5-litre SKYACTIV-G engine is offered in SE-L Nav, Tech Edition, Sport Nav and GT trim, while the 115ps output engine is exclusively matched to the flagship GT Sport and a six-speed manual gearbox.

All models feature new seat fabrics, a new steering wheel and revised door mirrors with wraparound indicators. Enhanced refinement across the range is achieved thanks to the adoption of noise-insulating glass in the windscreen and additional under bonnet sound proofing. Plus, to reduce high-frequency noise entering the cabin from the rear, sound absorbing material has been added to the inside of the tailgate, the parcel shelf and the spare wheel well.

This improvement in refinement is matched to subtle enhancements to the Mazda2's already driver-focused dynamics. Front and rear damper settings have been revised to enhance ride quality, while to improve body control the front anti-roll bar bushing has changed and the structure of the front lower suspension arm has been modified. Additionally, a small recalibration of the electric power steering has resulted in improved steering feel.

The upgraded Mazda2's dynamic enhancements also see the introduction of G-Vectoring Control (GVC). Having made its debut on the 2017 Mazda3, GVC is now standard across the Mazda2 range, the first of Mazda's SKYACTIV-VEHICLE DYNAMICS technologies it varies engine torque to optimise loading on the wheels when cornering to indistinguishably provide more precise handling and improve comfort.

Across the key trim levels the upgraded Mazda2 now features additional equipment: SE-L and SE-L Nav cars now feature LED front fog lamps, auto power-folding mirrors and passenger seat height adjustment, while Sport Nav models benefit from subtle visual enhancements including new 16-inch alloy wheels and a shark fin antenna.

As before, the Mazda2 features excellent active safety equipment with all 90ps and 115ps powered cars featuring Smart City Brake Support and Lane Departure Warning System. All cars outside of the entry-level 75ps engine models come with Mazda's 7" Colour touch-screen display with MZD-Connect infotainment system, integrated navigation, DAB radio and cruise control, while Sport Nav and GT/GT Sport models feature high-end equipment like privacy glass, rear parking sensors, climate control air-conditioning and smart keyless entry.

Commenting on the revisions to the Mazda2 Jeremy Thomson, Managing Director Mazda Motors UK said, "with annual UK sales of over 10,000 cars, the Mazda2 is a really important car in our line up. It may be the smallest car we produce, but it has at its heart the same values of style, driving involvement and quality that mark out all our products. These updates come just two years after the current Mazda2's launch but they are designed to ensure the Mazda2 remains a class-leading contender in what remains the biggest selling segment in the UK car market."

Adding, "the addition of the Tech Edition gives us a limited edition model that offers a winning combination of excellent equipment and extra value. Designed for a younger audience it is another example of how our Mazda2 special editions offer a distinctive and well-equipped small car experience."

Versatile and sporty new high-tech flagship for all new Mégane range

THE ALL-NEW Renault Mégane has gained a versatile and sporty new flagship with the launch of the GT dCi 165 Auto EDC. Available in both hatchback and Sport Tourer bodystyles, the new twin-turbo engine is the most powerful 1.6-litre diesel available on the market today with power and torque output of 165hp and 380Nm respectively.

The latest addition to the GT range, developed and engineered by Renault Sport, the GT dCi 165 Auto EDC is ideal for drivers who like to access torque at low revs for enjoyable performance in all conditions. It is mated to Renault's sophisticated, smooth-shifting six-speed Efficient Dual-Clutch (EDC) gearbox.

The GT dCi 165 Auto EDC is capable of 0-62mph in 8.8 seconds with a top speed of 133mph, yet still returns NEDC combined-cycle fuel consumption of 61.4mpg and CO2 of 120g/km. The figures for the Sport Tourer are 8.9sec, 133mph, 61.4mpg and 124g/km respectively.

Sporty looks

Exterior and interior enhancements give the GT a more sporty and dynamic appearance. At the front, a wider lower air intake with a honeycomb-pattern mesh is flanked by lateral scoops. Dark metal, diamond cut 18-inch alloy wheels and door mirror housings match the finish on the front air scoops and rear diffuser. Iron Blue metallic body colour is exclusive to the GT & GT Line range at £645.

Inside, the GT's sports front seats feature additional lateral support to the base and backrest and integral head-rests, blue top-stitching and a chequered logo. The upholstery options – in fabric or Alcantara – provide hints of blue, whilst the steering wheel is leather. The GT features an auto-dimming rearview mirror and chrome door sill plates with the Renaultsport logo.

& Lyme Regis Devon League

Division C (East) Uplyme & Lyme Regis 155 for 8 (31ov) lost to Clyst Hydon 156 -5 by five wickets

A STAND of 75 for the first wicket between skipper Ian Sutton (52) and Sinthuran Thevaraj laid the platform for hosts Clyst Hydon's seven wicket victory over Uplyme & Lyme Regis last Saturday.

After winning the toss Sutton invited Uplyme first use of the Merryfield track.

Opener Laurie Thomas fell for a duck with 17 on the board but Liam Gorfine, skipping in the absence of James Whetlor, carried the score up to 47 for 3 before being snapped up for 26 by Thevaraj off the lively Kevin Sercombe (3-18).

This brought Mark Batey to the crease and the wicket-keeper batsman proceeded to strike eight 4s and four 6s in a season's-best unbeaten 72 off just 62 balls.

But other than Tyler Wellman and Gelf Anderson (both 11) nobody else (extras 30) made double figures and the visitors posted 155 for 8 after 31 overs.

In reply, the Clyst opening pair set their stall out to good effect and they had few alarms in reaching their target midway through the 26th over with five wickets in-hand.

UPLYME 108-9 (41.5ov) LOST TO NORTH DEVON 109-3 (21.2ov) BY SEVEN WICKETS

THE Uplyme & Lyme Regis 2nd XI also tasted defeat and slumped to the foot of the table being well beaten by North Devon 3rds at the KGV.

The visitors invited Uplyme to bat first and were soon rewarded with the experienced pairing of Dave Norman (0) and Bruce Malby (8) both dismissed cheaply.

Opener Rob Thom (20) and skipper Dave Matthews saw the score up to 46 for 2 before the former fell.

Matthews (17) was next to go with the score on 55 and, other than Ben Taylor's career-best 20, the middle and lower fared little better as the score crawled to 108 all out in the 42nd over with Cameron Ford, coming on as fifth change bowler, returning remarkable figures of 4 for 7 off just 11 balls!

Matthews picked up 2 for 31 in the reply but North Devon eased past their target in the 22nd over boosted by 36 wides as the home attack strayed.

Two cuts for Osborne

THE morning was breezy for the Men's JUNE MEDAL and there were 61 starters and 12 non-finishers writes Peter Crowter.

Just one player came in with a sub-70 score and that was Division One winner Lewis Craddock whose his nett 69 included two birdies and 10 pars which was enough to beat runner-up Martin Horton by two strokes.

Scores were close among the prize winners and there were five nett scores of 71 and that was the score of the Division Two winner the in-form Nick Jones while Brian Osborne won Division Three scoring a nett 70.

Results: Division One. 1st Lewis Craddock 76-7=69. 2nd Martin Horton 83-12=71, 3rd Eddie Cary 79-6=73.

Division Two. 1st (acb) Nick Jones 86-15=71, 2nd Roy Gill 85-14=71, 3rd Andrew Blackmore 91-18=73.

Division Three. 1st Brian Osborne 92-22=70, 2nd (acb) Andy Smith 90-19=71, 3rd Steve Cleal 90-19=71.

Osborne received his second handicap cut of the week, this time one stroke.

There was a fine, sunny morning on the first day of June for the VETERANS Thursday competition.

The competition was a self-entry, single division Stableford as some members were due to play a home match against DUDSBURY in the afternoon.

Despite this there were 44 entrants and the man who lead the field by three points was Brian Osborne (24) with a fine haul of 41 points.

Malcolm Noble (18) took the runner-up spot with 38 and Graham Topp (23) was third carding 36. Then followed four players with 35 points but, after count-back, David Inglesent (22) took the fourth spot.

The highlight of the day was an eagle two achieved by Gil Roberts on the par four ninth - a 328 yard dog-leg. The second shot that found the hole was 160 yards up the slope.

Osborne's handicap was reduced by two strokes and Noble's by one.

The home match in the afternoon with Dudsbury was halved 3-3.

Ladies' Section by Lyn Hargrave

A SMALL field played for the Committee Cup in fair conditions on Saturday, May 27th.

Jane Dowling was the winner after going out in 52 and coming in with 50 beating her playing partner, runner-up, Avril Brown by one shot.

Results: 1st Jane Dowling nett 72, 2nd Avril Brown 73.

Monday saw the rain sweep in but by Tuesday morning it had set fair for the Mike Thompson's President's Shield.

Results: Winner - Nicky Stone 36pts, runner up - Julie Woodroffe 34 on c/b from Toshika Ricketts.

On Thursday, on a very hot day, at ASHLEY WOOD, the Bridport team of Lynne Jessopp, Julie Woodroffe & Liz Thompson won their round in the Parkin Cup; a County Competition for Bronze players played off scratch. The match was so close that Julie Woodroffe had to go out and play-off which she did with aplomb winning on the 19th hole.

The team now go forward to the next round.

Bridport through to national finals

BRIDPORT ladies Frances Hewitt, Alison Tibble, Melodie Watts & Margaret Clapp booked their place in the Women's National fours at Leamington Spa in August after beating SHERBORNE in a close game in the semi-final, and Dorchester in the Dorset County final.

It was a much better week for the club following poor results the previous week, with only one of the five sides suffering defeat.

This was Bridport B in Dorset Division Two who struggled playing on unfamiliar mats at BRANKSOME PARK and went down 33-83. Jean Seadon, Sheila Jones, Pauline Newitt & Christine Cowdrey 15-28; Joan Griffiths, Janet Bird, Marion Tocher & Delphine Street 9-22; Margaret Strange, Janet Tattershall, Jill Willcox & Barbara Iverson 9-33.

However, Bridport A got back to winning ways in Dorset Division One with a 65-62 win over leaders DORCHESTER to earn eight points.

Lyn Craddock, Marion Carter, Rosemary Brooks & Melodie Watts 25-21 in a steady game where they were always leading; Pamela Daters, Mary Eastman, Laura Taylor & Pat Cornick 26-17, winning the last six ends after being level 14-14 after 13th end; Frances Hewett, Liz Neumann, Alison Tibble & Margaret Clapp 14-24.

With the score close until the 18th, they dropped a six and five before recovering to win the two last ends which gave Bridport overall victory.

All three men's teams won their games. In the Dorset League One West, Bridport A had a good 70-49 victory over bottom side WEYMOUTH & MELCOMBE REGIS, losing just one rink.

remarkable fightback

In SDL Division One leaders Bridport A beat PORTLAND VICTORIA 68-48. Taylor, Bartlett, Fred Pomeroy & Dave Smith 24-11, Hall, Griffiths, Paul Tibble & Soloman 20-14, two good wins but both were overshadowed by Lidington, Wilson, Scott & Sanger, who came from 7-23 down on the 17th to produce a fantastic 24-23 win.

The B team also had a good win, their first of the season, beating WELLWORTHY 57-44. Peter Billett, Adam Smith, Mike Stephenson & Bob Seadon 19-14, Sam Dunn, Brian Parker, Bob Willcox & Roger Herbert 22-16; Dan Hoskins, Bob Stone, John Ireland & Clive Langdon 16-14.

The friendly triples away at CHARDSTOCK was won 75-56, with top team Wilson, Joan Smith & Sanger 23-10, whilst the home friendly against HONITON was also won with Herbert, Strange & Brian Rumble the top triple.

Dorset Premier League

SHROTON (4) 165 LOST TO DORCHESTER (20) 166-3 BY 7 WICKETS
DORCHESTER got back to winning ways with an emphatic victory over Shroton.

After three losses on the trot and some poor batting performances, the county town sprung back into form with a good bowling and batting display, particularly from George Foot who claimed a "fifer", Dan Belt and Quenton Miller.

Batting first, the hosts had reached 80-2 at drinks and looked on course for a score in the region of 220, but Foot ensured they fell well short, claiming 5-36 in 7.4 overs to dismiss Shroton for 164 all out.

He was well backed up by Josh Richardson (2-21) and debutant Jack Owens (2-36).

After the dismissal of Foot (9) on 35-1, Belt (63) and Miller (62) made light of chasing their target, and their partnership of 124 took them within sight of victory before they were both dismissed.

■ WICKETS: George Foot who starred with the ball for Dorchester with 5-36

SHILLINGSTONE (15) 355-5 BEAT

MARTINSTOWN (3) 102-1

ON FASTER RUN RATE

MARTINSTOWN were on the end of a run explosion as Shillingstone hit a massive 355-5 in their 50 overs with Tom House (142) top scoring and three others helping themselves to half centuries.

With Martinstown's batting fragile of late, captain Ed Nichols realising the score was probably out of their reach in the circumstances, decided on the steady approach to accumulating batting time and points.

He and Sean Williams (34*) made slow but patient progress before the skipper departed for 40, but with Sam Kershaw (19*) and the score 102-1 after 33 overs, rain put an end to proceedings with Martinstown well behind the clock.

County Division One

CATTISTOCK (5) 159 ALL OUT LOST

TO BERE REGIS (20) 147-4

(REVISED TARGET 147)

BERE Regis' continued their unbeaten start to the season with this easy win over Cattistock.

Despite their target only being reduced by 14 for four overs lost, they easily reached it with over 16 overs to spare.

Batting first, only Jon Legg (18) and Steve Tucker (28) showed much resistance as they slumped to 83-6, but Brad Damen came to the rescue, hitting 69 (8x4, 4x6) from just 55 balls to set the visitors a reasonable total to chase.

Although Legg (2-18) and Billy Walbridge (2-28) made some impression with their bowling to reduce BERE Regis to 92-4, Matt King who carried his bat for 69, and Griffith (23*) saw them home.

BROADSTONE 2ND (20) 209-9

BEAT WEYMOUTH (9) 206 ALL OUT

BY ONE WICKET

WEYMOUTH captain Simon Browne claimed "injudicious shots" were the reason his side were beaten off the very last ball of the game.

Browne with a superb 80, and opener Dean Janaway with an excellent 54 from 73 balls were the only two Seasideers to score more than ten, with extras (40) scoring more than the other nine between them.

Browne, who felt they were 20 runs short of their target score of 220 at tea, impressed on his players the need to stick around.

"It was very frustrating. There was plenty of potential in the lower order but unfortunately they all fell short.

"That was a pity because we bowled and fielded well, as it was we only need another five or so and would have won."

They looked to be on the way with Broadstone 94-5 in reply, with occasional bowler Marco Nott producing a superb spell of 2-22 from nine overs, and Browne and Graham Puckett both bagging a brace.

However, with four bottom order batsmen scoring almost a 100 between them, the game came down to the final over with seven required for victory, and two needed off the final ball and Pete Farrant's straight drive raced to the boundary to clinch the victory.

County Division Two

MARNHULL (19) 93-3 BEAT PORT-

LAND RED TRIANGLE (4) 150

ALL OUT (REVISED TARGET 90)

Portland were beaten at Marnhull where after they were bowled out for 150, the hosts easily met the revised target after rain had intervened.

County Division Three

STURMINSTER MARSHALL (19) 267-

6 BEAT BEAMINSTER (6) 164-8 ON

FASTER RUN RATE

THE score suggests that Beaminster were second best in this game, but in reality they were ahead of the required run rate when the heavens opened and forced play to be abandoned, but lost because they had lost more wickets.

After being inserted, the home side played positively throughout their innings with Henry Lockwood top scoring with an excellent 96, and accelerated impressively in the latter overs scoring over one hundred in the last ten overs to post a challenging total.

Wickets were shared around with six bowlers used; Ross Baker (1-32) the most economical, and Adam Herring finishing with 2-52.

Beaminster's reply started well as Baker (52, 10x4, 1x6) won at the attack, and he and Lewis Keenan (14) raced to 64 from 10 overs for the first wicket.

Unfortunately, the captain was dismissed off a high full toss which should have been signalled a no ball.

This sparked a collapse as five wickets fell and, although Dan Spiller (29*) rescued in the innings, heavy rain after 28 overs saw the game abandoned, leaving Beaminster to rue losing quick wickets, as runs had flowed throughout their chase.

CHARLTON DOWN (19) 196 ALL OUT

BEAT KINGSTON LACY (5) 56 ALL

OUT BY 140 RUNS

CHARLTON Down won this top of table clash between the two unbeaten teams by an emphatic 140 runs.

Matt Stevens won the Man of the Match award with a well crafted 40 and then removing the top three Kingston Lacy batsmen, and there was a hat trick for Tommy Tucker.

Kingston Lacy's excellent opening bowlers of John Burns and James Holton soon had Charlton Down on the back foot at 34-3, but Sam Roles (31) and Matt Stevens steadied the innings adding 53 valuable runs Stevens forged a further two partnerships with brother Dan and Kim Park.

The innings looked like drawing to a close with the dismissal of Matt Stevens who had held the innings together, and Kim Park four balls later with the score 147-7.

However, Rob Deadman (13), Mark Homewood (19*) and a last wicket stand of 25 between Mark Homewood and Tommy Tucker almost seeing Charlton Down to maximum batting points.

Kingston Lacy started slowly but with the score on 21-0 Matt Stevens (3-11) took three wickets in two overs and Dan Stevens (1-18) also joined in with one to leave them reeling on 33-4.

A surprise double bowling change of Tucker and Park (2-15) produced immediate dividends and with Tucker (4-7) producing a hat trick, the innings collapse to 56 all out.

Captain Tucker said "It was great to see the younger lads dig deep to build their innings. Our bowling was superb from ball one and our fielders gave nothing away."

DORCHESTER 2ND (20) 272-7 BEAT

WIMBORNE & COLEHILL 3RD (6)

150 ALL OUT BY 122 RUNS

DORCHESTER 2nds made it four wins on the trot with a comfortable victory over a youthful Wimbome side.

Openers Simon Joslin (59) and Josh Foot (40) controlled the game from the start with an opening partnership of 90 and they were well backed up with useful innings for Steve Clifford (41), Mike Peak (23), Pete Diffey (36) and Olly Osbourne (24*) as they posted 272-7 in their 45 overs.

Eiron Fitzgerald (2-23) soon had the visitors in trouble at 5-2 in reply, and with all the eight Dorchester bowlers producing good spells, particularly Peak (1-10 from nine overs) the wickets were spread around with Osbourne, Nick Joslin, and young Ben Alford all bagging braces.

Special mention to Alford and all rounder Billy Baker, who didn't take a wicket, but both showed that they are ones for the future.

County Division Four

CORFE MULLEN (20) 205-7 BEAT

PUDDLETOWN (5) 114 ALL OUT

BY 91 RUNS

PUDDLETOWN's unbeaten record came to an end at Corfe Mullen on Saturday when they were soundly beaten by the home side by 91 runs, with Michael Jordan once again being the thorn in their side.

The Corfe captain had scored an unbeaten 122 last year in the fixture between the two clubs at Puddletown, which had been a key component in his side's huge win on that occasion, but this time his bowling was the catalyst for his side's success.

Corfe won the toss and elected to bat, and were in trouble at the midpoint of their innings with the score 56-4, but some fine batting by Flooks, Cresswell and Haider, who was undefeated, raised the host's score to 205-7.

Adam Weir, David Morris and Steve Chaldicott all bowled economically and well for Puddletown, and were largely responsible for the home side's meagre score after twenty overs.

Puddletown's reply got off to a solid start with Lucas Allen and Chris Clarke taking the score to 44 before Clarke fell lbw to Jones, but sadly wickets then tumbled with regularity, with no one able to support Allen, who finished as the visitors' top scorer with 38.

Allen was the seventh wicket to fall, and although there was a small wobble in the tail, Puddletown were bowled out for 114, with Jordan the standout bowler with figures of 5-20, ably supported by Stannard with 3-26.

County Division Five

MARTINSTOWN 2ND (7) 159 ALL

OUT LOST TO SWANAGE 2ND (20)

242-7 BY 83 RUNS

MARTINSTOWN were put to the sword by leaders Swanage where openers Scott Orchard (74) and Paul Norman (63) led the way with a century partnership. Jacob Coombs (2-40) and Steve Gerety (2-42) were the pick of the home bowlers.

Captain Lee House (38) led from the front with support from Finlay Williams and Gerety scoring 27 apiece, and 18* from David Lewis late on, but they fell well short.

County Division Six

WEYMOUTH 2ND (4) 118 ALL OUT

LOST TO BOURNEMOUTH 5TH (18)

139-5 BY 21 RUNS

DESPITE a half century from captain Pete Gordon (52), Weymouth came up 21 runs short of their target.

Economical bowling from Tim Guyett (1-6), who only conceded six runs in his eight overs, and Cube Whyte (1-13 from eight overs) restricted Bournemouth 5ths, and only some big hitting late on saw them reach 139.

But with only Guyett (10) and Ben Hunter (12) reaching double figures, Gordon's efforts were in vain.

Bridport Gig racing

Bridport third at Weymouth Regatta

BRIDPORT gig rowing club entered 12 crews at Weymouth Gig Club's annual regatta on May 27th and finished a brilliant third overall to move to the top of the Jurassic League.

The competition began with the ladies races; the A crews were first off the line rowing round the two stroke-side turn course in Weymouth bay.

Bridport Ladies A finished 3rd out of 14 maintaining their strong form from the world championships earlier in the month.

Next off were the ladies B. Bridport achieved a strong and controlled start which put them at the front and they were never caught - their best result of the season so far. In the Ladies C race Bridport came in third.

In the men's races the C crew rowed hard to achieve 6th, while the men's B secured eighth. The A team battled a tough race with some clashes round the turns to go over the line in fifth place.

Next was the turn of the juniors, who row a shorter course with just one turn.

There was some confusion surrounding the course route which resulted in crews rowing different courses and coming over the line at different times. Due to this Weymouth decided to give each crew one point and not declare a winner.

The ladies and men's veterans (40+) raced in sunny conditions in the afternoon and both secured fourth place, as did the ladies supervets (50+).

The men's supervets finished in fifth and the day was rounded off with the mixed race. The Bridport crew gave all they had left to achieve second place just behind Weymouth.

Consistent results across the categories left Dagger (Bridport) in third place overall. Teign and Weymouth came first and second respectively.

In the Jurassic league, of which Weymouth was the first event, Bridport ended the day on top. The next League event is at Sidmouth.

Bridport squads are now in training for upcoming events, with Bridport regatta being held on the July 2nd at West Bay. If you would like to give rowing a try please visit www.bridportgigclub.org.

Grumblers cheered by first win

GRUMBLERS Rosie and Martin Wilton & Peter Varney had a smile on their face last week after a 14-5 win over the Wickers gave them their first points in the Bridport & West Dorset Club's Morning League.

Leaders Hatters, comprising Rose and Chris Everest & John Boxall, had a scare early on before a late 2,5,1,2 counts gave them a 16-11 win over Scuttlebutts, whilst Alan Wotherspoon, Gerry Moss & Tony Sharrod's Supernova's finished 2,3 to beat the Bandits 13-11 to stay second.

Chas Clarke, Brian Legg & Sheila Nicoll's Hotspurs thumped the Old Timers 19-5, and Mike Loud, Gordon Lee & Reg Dodd's Hillbillies pipped the Mannequins 12-10.

Julie Bright, Roy Nicoll & Martin Grier's Gazelles are back on top of the Evening League after a 18-6 win against the pointless Was-ups who opened up with five singles on the first five ends. However an amazing finish saw them only score one shot over the last nine ends.

Sue Caen, Keven Moyes & Mike Long's Pirates are shooting up the table, following another tremendous 2,2,1,5,1 finish to give them victory over the Chancers 18-9.

Renegades beat Jackpots 13-10 thanks to a four count on the last end from Clarke, David Jenkins & Peter Hunt.

Butlins were leading 8-7 against Lyn Sandall, Steve Glover & Phil Tattershall's Potters before collapsing to a 22-9 defeat, and a big seven count gave Geoff Hansen, Barry Mapson & Reg Dodd' Dingos a 16-12 win over Totties.

A tight finish saw Maureen Hicks, Robin Pither & Sheila Nicoll's Lillywhites beat Wyverns 13-10.

Meanwhile, the Beaminster Bees finally found the honeypot after years of searching, when they won the Beaminster & District Short Mat Bowls League title for the first time writes Paul Radford.

The Bees had for years lived in the shadow of the Beaminster Beagles, multiple winners of the trophy and champions for the two previous seasons. But this time they swarmed over most of their opponents, winning 10 of their 12 matches in the seven-team league to win by three points from the Beagles with the Toller Trotters third, just one further point behind. The league is made up of two teams from each of Beaminster, Netherbury and South Perrott and one from Toller.

Rugby

Bridport promoted

WITH Salisbury 3rd, who finished second in the Dorset & Wilts South Two Division this season, unable to be promoted as their 2nd team are already in Division One, Bridport's third position has ensured that they have gained promotion along with New Milton 2nds.

Sokesman Stuart Briggs said: "This has been very well received at the club with all the players and coach looking forward to what will be a challenging 2017-18 season."

"Whilst they will face many difficult matches the key element is that regular rugby should be guaranteed against first and second team sides. This is unlike the past season where the club lost five matches due to teams cancelling."

Bridport will be up against first teams from clubs such as Dorchester, Weymouth & Portland, Dorset Dockers and Oakmedians and 2nd teams from Swanage & Wareham and Wimborne and North Dorset.

Julian Hussey the retiring Juniors Chairman said at the club's recent AGM that a Colts team and a strong U16 side will offer future support for the 1st XV in the higher league.

The Blues are scheduled to open their account against North Dorset 2nd on DSaturday, September 9th.

Wooster to make step up for Swallows

STUART Wooster's efforts in guiding the Uplyme FC Reserve team to a promotion and cup double were recognised when he was awarded the Taskers Clubman of the Year trophy at the Club's recent annual awards evening held at the Nags Head.

Wooster, who it was announced would be stepping up with Pete Blandamer as assistant to replace the retiring Rodney Rowe and Jon Matthews as first team manager, shuffled his youthful squad to good effect as they finished third in the Perry Street League Division Three and also won the Reg Eglon Cup.

In his speech, Club Chairman Andy Cleere thanked Rowe and Matthews for their efforts and congratulated the Reserves team on their success. He added that the club and players needed to work better collectively so that the full benefits of having a first and reserve team are realised, and that squad rotation would be increased between the two teams to promote a 'one club' mind-set.

It was also confirmed that Craig Coles and Rob Prosser would be taking the reins of the Reserves team.
